Kenneth Kam RIC Bangkok Scholarship

The Kenneth Kam - RIC Bangkok Scholarship was established in 2016, providing full sponsorship of tuition fees to students from RIC's University of London International Programme, for up to three years.

As a firm believer in the value of a strong education, Mr Kenneth Kam initiated the scholarship as a means of helping make tertiary education more accessible to the people of Bangkok, where he worked and lived in for a number of years. A trader, author and philanthropist from Singapore, Mr Kam started Kenn Foundation which offers this scholarship as part of his mission to empower the underprivileged both in the region and beyond.

About Kenneth Kam RIC Bangkok Scholarship

Kenneth Kam is a trader, author and philanthropist from Singapore. His humble beginnings have taught him that giving engenders receiving and that one should pay it forward.

Over the years, Kenneth Kam has put his personal resources behind various social initiatives that enable equal access to education. He has also donated generously to several educational institutes in Singapore and other countries.

Today, the seasoned trader and social entrepreneur is more than ever determined to serve underprivileged communities and to encourage budding talents and aspirations in Bangkok and around the world.

About Kenn Foundation

Kenn Foundation targets underserved and underprivileged communities with the aim of "Empowering for Equilibrium". This ethos informs the four key tenets of its grantmaking approach namely:

- Education for the Poor
- Alleviation of Poverty
- Medical Education and Research
- Development of Arts & Social Sciences

Following this criteria, beneficiaries range from students, individuals with special needs, educational institutions, charity organizations, and relevant arts and medical research programmes
